

The proposed collection for new Federal hires with the additional recommended changes to on-boarding is a good start. The availability of creating a new email address within the Workday system would be an important factor for security measures within the hiring or onboarding for a specific position of the Federal Government.